New in R6V04: IntelliDealer Parts Order Maintenance Feature

IntelliDealer now includes a parts ordering feature similar to the one found in the green screen application. This recently added IntelliDealer feature includes several new functions such as Release, Update and Unrelease buttons embedded in the order maintenance screen. There is also an option to post emergency order freight charges to the original sales order.

Figure 1 shows an example of the IntelliDealer Parts Order Maintenance screen. Notice that the Release button allows you to release the order without having to exit the order first.

The Subs button allows you to view and maintain subs for each part on the order (Fig. 2).

When the order is released, it is re-displayed for the user to quickly and easily print, receipt or unrelease (Fig. 3). When you select the option to receipt an order, you will be prompted to select a default quantity option and then you will have the ability to maintain the order receipt.

Note that the Update button is embedded in this screen so you can update the order without having to exit the screen (Fig. 4). When you select Update, you may be prompted for the vendor invoice number.

In the case of emergency orders, a new screen will appear asking if you wish to post freight charges to the sales order that generated the parts order (Fig. 5). The user can select one of five ways to prorate the freight charge. If no freight is to be charged, simply press the No Charge button.
