“We have found that between Query on the AS/400 (IBM eServer iSeries) and Crystal on the PC, there is virtually nothing in the PFW System for which we cannot write and design a report.”

Business Objects' Crystal Reports is a reporting package so powerful, Business Objects is confident enough to name it the “world-standard” enterprise reporting package.

Reports can send powerful messages to business managers: they dictate trends, put your business numbers into perspective and help drive critical business decisions. A report writer that can extract your dealership's “mission-critical” information in the most effective and productive way, allow you to format your reports using an easy-to-use “drag and drop” interface and incorporate graphics, color and graphing capabilities is worth taking a look at.

Business Objects' Crystal Reports is a reporting package so powerful that Business Objects is confident enough to name it the “world-standard” enterprise reporting package. Business Objects maintains that organizations large and small can benefit from this extremely flexible product. PFW agrees.

With Crystal Reports, any field in the entire PFW Dealership Management System can be selected and sorted and put into a report that can be formatted to look exactly the way you want, produced when you want and distributed in almost any format you want. This flexibility helps you get the most out of your business system.

The 15 example reports for Crystal Reports that PFW has developed were created specifically with your business information needs in mind. With a Parts Master Listing, an Income Report, Financial Statements, an Outstanding A/R Report and a Sample Dunning Letter based on outstanding A/R balance and more, we're confident our customers will find Crystal Reports, along with the special PFW Crystal Reports examples, an easy-to-use option for creating information-packed, presentation-quality masterpieces.

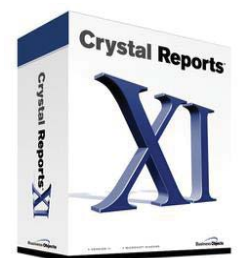

Features

Our Customer Repository of Reports can be utilized at any time – color has been added to add depth to the report and highlight key values. Where applicable, some reports even have graphs included to help enhance your report by providing a visual picture of the results/values. Each report contains a description of the report, the report itself, a PDF version of the output and a PDF file that describes the structure of the report.

Existing reports may be imported into Crystal Reports as well as exported to familiar formats such as Microsoft Word and Excel and Adobe PDF.

When you order the PFW Crystal Report examples, you'll receive:

- Business Objects Crystal Reports XI Professional Edition
- 30-Day free trial of Crystal Reports Server
- Crystal Reports User Manual
- Online Crystal Reports Help
- Customer Repository of Reports
- Call-in Support

Your logo, easily placed on the PFW Crystal Reports examples, adds a professional dealership identity.

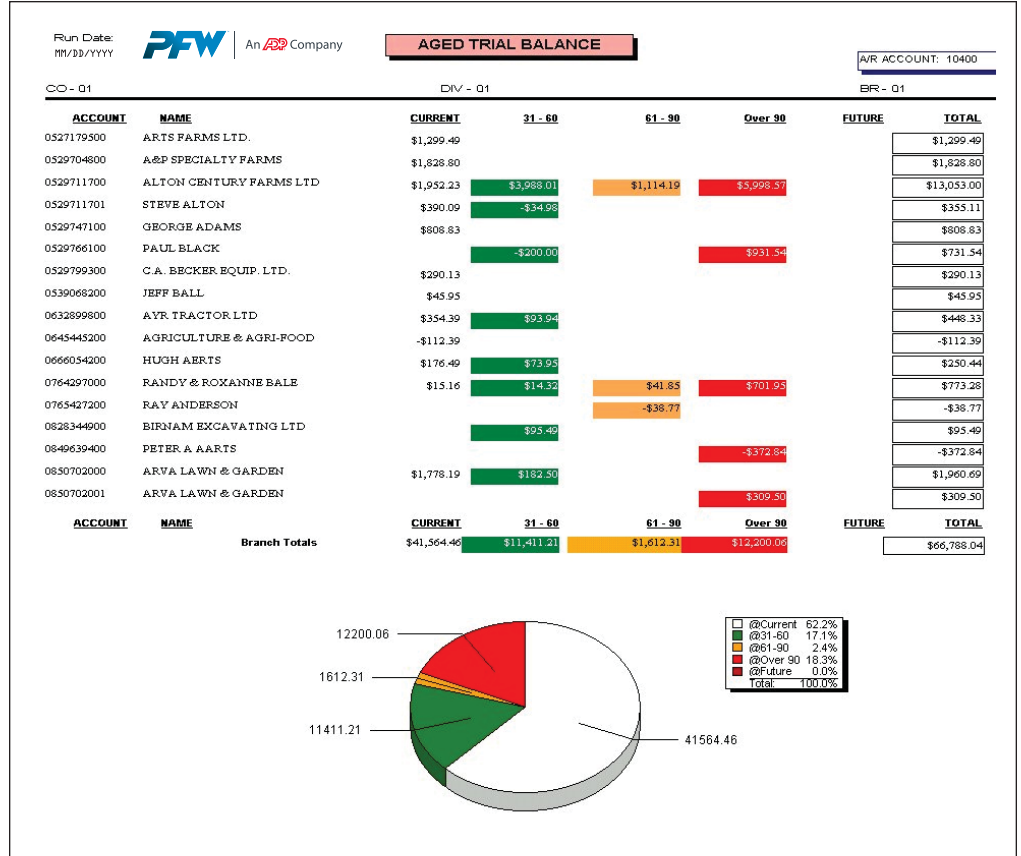

The Example Reports are pre-formatted to display your dealership information in a logical and understandable format.

Color adds depth to the report and highlights key values.

Data can be refreshed and previewed on-screen with the simple click on the mouse.

Graphs give a professional-looking, visual image of your dealership's data.

The Example Reports can be saved on your PC and run at any time with live data from your dealership's iSeries.

On the Web

Have you ever wished you could put reports out on the web for all of your employees to see or to share your information among branch managers? The PFW Crystal Reports Example Reports and other reports created with Crystal Reports can be exported to your company intranet with the demo version of Crystal Reports Server. When exported, the report format is never compromised; reports can be viewed on any web browser, running on any operating system. Page-on-demand access lets users view and download just the page they are interested in seeing. Queries can be created from remote locations that may also be saved in Crystal Report format.

Designing Your Own Reports

Any field in the PFW Dealership Management System can be selected for a report by a simple click of the mouse. If a particular field doesn't exist with the information you'd like to show on your report, then the field can be created using the advanced Crystal Reports Formula Editor. Reports you create can be as simple or as complex as you require.
